The Environmental Trade Mission 2010 (ETM 2010), presented by the Atlanta Development Authority, Metro Atlanta Chamber, Consulate General of Canada -Atlanta, Quebec Government Office, US India Trade Foundation, German American Chamber of Commerce of the Southern US, Consulate General of the Federal Republic of Germany, Switzerland Trade & Investment Promotion and The World Chamber of Commerce, will be held in Atlanta, Ga., November 17 – 19, 2010.

The ETM 2010 focus areas are: Clean Water and Wastewater Systems, Innovative Waste Management, Green Buildings and Energy Efficiencies and Renewable Energy. ETM 2010 will provide a forum where people from around the world come together to showcase cutting edge clean technology, including products, services and processes that creates a pathway to economic development opportunities for sustainable business practices.

We invite you to attend the ETM 2010. Participants will have an opportunity to showcase their clean technology products and services. You will be welcomed by municipal officials and businesses leaders located in the Southeastern United States. By participating in the ETM, you will also be able to meet with delegates from other countries and expand your global outreach. Each ETM International Participant will have the privilege to have at least five one-on-one meetings and up to 10 mini-meetings through speed networking sessions in addition to attending all the networking events. Please call to discuss the fee to attend. Participation is typically by invitation only. The fee includes one company representative attending all receptions, breakfasts and luncheons. Additional representatives may attend for an additional cost.

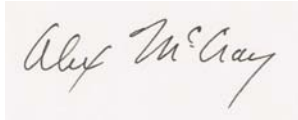

As a participant, we are open to discussing how you might position your company by using our social media streams in addition to our website that is viewed by many worldwide. Specific packages are designed to meet your goals and objectives while here in the US.

We also are excited to announce that the ETM 2010 will follow the Fourth Annual Americas Competitiveness Forum (ACF), November 14-16, 2010, in Atlanta, Georgia. This important event will be co-hosted by United States Secretary of Commerce Gary Locke and Atlanta Mayor Kasim Reed. The ACF is the Western Hemisphere's preeminent event for government and business leaders to discuss innovative methods to achieve economic competitiveness and for corporations to learn about new trade and investment opportunities in the Americas. For more information please visit www.CifaAtlanta.org and www.CompetitivenessForum.com/index.html. We will build from the synergies and extended opportunities by following the Americas Competitiveness Forum (ACF).

If you are interested in participating, please call me or Polly Sattler, ETM Director of International Relations, at (404) 550-4481.

Thank you for your consideration. We are delighted to provide this unique trade mission and encourage you to take part in this newly designed process to promote economic development of clean technologies and services in a global framework.
